Expansion: Beyond Ireland

The outreach of the Sisters of Mercy was not restricted to Ireland and England. Between 1842 and the 1980s, many autonomous foundations of Sisters of Mercy were established including in Newfoundland. We will review more on Newfoundland in future Formation Moments.

Sisters of Mercy are currently in 46 countries, working with an increasing number of ministry partners, associates, and volunteers. You can view the map of where the Sisters of Mercy are ministering at

Congregations, Institutes and Federations Around the World

Today, the many congregations, institutes and federations fall under Mercy International Association (MIA) which is headquartered in Mercy House in Dublin, Ireland where it all began with Catherine McAuley. MIA is an organization of the leaders of Mercy Congregations, Institutes and Federations around the world. The members are:

- Federation of the Sisters of Mercy Great Britain
- Sisters of Mercy of The Union of Great Britain
- Institute of Our Lady of Mercy Great Britain
- Sisters of Mercy of The Americas
- Sisters of Mercy of Newfoundland
- Sisters of Mercy North Sydney
- Sisters of Mercy Brisbane Congregation
- Sisters of Mercy New Zealand
- Institute of Sisters of Mercy of Australia & PNG
- Sisters of Mercy Parramatta Congregation
- Religious Sisters of Mercy Philippines
- Congregation of Sisters of Mercy (Ireland+)

“... each society of Religious receives a grace particularly adapted to the duties which they are called to perform. We ought then to have great confidence in God in the discharge of all these offices of mercy, spiritual and corporal – which constitute the business of our lives ...”
